

Master of Arts in Education (MAEd)

The Master of Arts in Education (MAEd) program aims to enhance the career potentials of the professional educators through the development of competencies in instructional leadership, academic management, and basic research, committed to the service of God, their immediate community, country, and to the world. Specifically, the program is designed to produce expert educational managers and leaders who are morally and spiritually upright, and who are advocates of academic excellence, research, Christian formation, community service and lifelong learning. The program consists of sub-curricula to cater to varied specializations, which are:

- Early Childhood
- Educational Management
- English
- Mathematics
- Physical Education, and
- Teaching Filipino

Specifically, the MAEd program seeks to provide meaningful and joyful learning experiences for students to:

- (1) Be morally and spiritually upright as educators, aware of their responsibilities as members of a Christian community;
- (2) Competently plan, implement and evaluate educational programs and projects for the pursuit of academic excellence;
- (3) Be equipped with research skills that would enable them conduct scholarly studies that significantly contribute to the existing body of knowledge of their respective discipline ; and,
- (4) to produce citizens who are capable of responding to the ever changing needs of the community as effective and efficient teachers and educational leaders, and advocates of lifelong learning.
